Cholesterol Education Month

More than 102 million American Adults (20 years or older) have total cholesterol levels at or above 200 mg/dL, which is above healthy levels. More than 35 million of these people have levels of 240 mg/dL or higher, which puts them at high risk for heart disease.

High cholesterol usually doesn’t have any symptoms. As a result, many people do not know that their cholesterol levels are too high. A simple blood test can be done to check and see if your cholesterol is too high. High cholesterol can be controlled through lifestyle changes, or if that is not enough, through medications.

The National Cholesterol Education program recommends that adults aged 20 years or older have their cholesterol checked every 5 years.
